And the Letters from Verona tell us, that the Generals Sereni and Visconti, with their Regiments and Baggage, pass'd by there the 6th Instant, towards San Martino, having left behind them in the Bressan 2 Regiments of Horse and 7 of Foot.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated April 23.

Mantua, April 4. The Grand Prior of France having Intelligence that a Detachment of Imperialists, whose Number we cannot yet learn, did on the 2d Instant lay 2 Bridges over the Po at Policella, a Place belonging to the Republick of Venice, below Ferrara, and pass that River; he order'd Monsieur de Vaudray, this Morning, to march from hence with 300 Horse and 2 Troops of Dragoons to Bondino on the Panara, where he will find Monsieur d'Esclainvilliers with part of the Troops that block up Mirandola. 'Tis reckon'd these 2 Parties joyn'd together will make 900 Horse 2 Troops of Dragoons and 600 Foot; and Monsieur de Vaudray who is to have the Command of them, is order'd to seek the Enemy without Delay, and fall upon them wherever he finds them, to give them no Time to throw up any Intrenchment to secure a Passage over the Po. The Grand Prior has also caus'd 400 Horse and 15 Companies of Grenadiers to draw out of their Quarters on the Mincio; they are to be here to Morrow, and to march the same day to Ostiglia; whither that General himself will go, as soon as the Regiments of Broglie, du Trone, Lautrec, and Veracq, are arriv'd there (as they are order'd) from the Oglio: He has directed Monsieur Andrezel to cause most of the Ingeniers, Miners, and Gunners, that went down the Po to be employ'd in the Siege of Mirandola, to turn back to Cremona; a few excepted, who he Designs shall attend upon himself with 6 Pieces of Cannon and Ammunitions necessary.

Ferrara, April 6. A Detachment of 4 or 5000 Imperialists are come through the Veroneze into the Ferrareze; have laid a Bridge over the Po at Papoze, and have made a Redoubt to cover the Head of it. They have taken 3 large Boats, full of Goods, that were going up the Po, to Mantua from Venice. The Officer that commands them has sent a good Garrison to Mesola. He likewise sends out Parties daily: One of them came to other Day to a Village not far from hence, and carried off Provisions, Forrage, and Cattle. 700 of them advanc'd to the Count of Motto's Seat near Francolino: But having Intelligence of the Approach of 1200 French of the Troops that block'd up Mirandola, they retir'd to Papoze.

Venice, April 10. The Queen Dowager of Poland and the Electores of Bavaria, who arriv'd here some Days ago from Padua, and are lodg'd in the Duke of Mantua's Palace; have had Compliments of Welcome paid to them on the Part of our Regents: They live in separate Apartments with their respective Families, eat apart, and do not so much as go to Church together, the Ceremoniale being it seems difficult to be settled between them. Letters from Mirandola of the 3d of this Month, tell us, that the French Troops which block'd it up being gone into the Ferrareze, the Governour sent out 400 Men of his Garrison, to sieze all the Provisions they could find in St. Felice, Final, Nonantola, and other Places in the Modeneze; which Detachment meeting no Opposition, return'd with 180 Head of great Cattle, and a very considerable Quantity of Provisions.

From the Harlem Courant, dated April 25.

Venice, April 11. By an Exdrefs from Rovigo we learn, that the Imperialists who pass'd the Po at Policella, have repass'd it, upon the Approach of the French to attack them, and have posted themselves along the Adige below Verona.

Milan, April 11. 'Tis advis'd from Genoa, that the Abbot Pomponne arriv'd there some Days ago, by Sea from Toulon. He is to go to Venice, in Quality of Ambassador of France. We have just receiv'd the News, that 2 Days ago the Garrison of Verue yielded themselves Prisoners of War. The Duke of Vendome designs to let his Troops rest for some time; and 'tis believ'd he himself will go to the Grand Prior his Brother, to concert with him proper Measures for opposing the Imperialists under the Count of Leiningen.

Ausburg, April 16. The Prince of Anhalt Dessau, General of the Prussian Troops that are marching to Italy, is arriv'd here in his Way to overtake them. Those Troops have been incommoded a little in their March, by the Rains. The Bavarians have at Length found Means to satisfy the Pretensions of the 2000 Prussians that staid behind: And they will speedily follow the rest to Italy.

From the Rotterdam Gazette, dated April 23.

Philipsbourg, April 14. The French Troops are drawing together at Haguenau, with design to form a flying Camp of about 8000 Men at Osmarsheim. Several Thousand Peasants are working upon a new Line near Drusenheim, which Place the Enemy intend to fortify. The Imperial Army is beginning to draw together, and, 'tis said, is to consist of 54 Battalions and 70 Squadrons: Prince Lewis of Baden intends to come from Aschaffembourg about the 20th Day of this Month to put himself at the Head of it. The

The English and Dutch Trains of Artillery, which are at Coblenz, are in a Readyness to march whither they shall be order'd. Store of Provisions, Ammunition, and Forrage, for the Army on the Moselle, is from time to time sent up by Water.

Trier, April 17. These 2 days past, the Enemy have been in a general Motion, with what Design does not yet appear: All our Troops are thereupon order'd to hold themselves ready to march at first Notice, and some are already march'd from hence to Consaarburg there to canton, whither the Count de Noyelles is gone to give necessary Orders.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated April 23.

Trier, April 19. The Lines made about this Town, will be finish'd in a few Days: And Cannon are begun to be plac'd on them. The Generals of the Allies that are here, are making all the necessary Dispositions for opening the Campaign on this side as soon as the Duke of Marlborough arrives, or sooner if Need be. The freshest Advices from the Enemy's Quarters, are, that all their Frontier Places are crowded with Troops, so that in Metz alone there are 7 Regiments of Horse and 15 of Foot: And that a further Reinforcement, which was advanc'd to Marche en Famine on their Way from the Netherlands to the Moselle; have had Orders sent them to halt there, the Elector of Bavaria having advis'd that he is apprehensive the Allies intend to lay Siege to Antwerp.
